

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the very outset, I would like to extend my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Indira Saikia Bora, Professor & HOD, Department of Sankaradeva Studies, MSSV, Nagaon and Retd. Prof. Dr. Maheswar Hazarika, former HOD, Department of Sankaradeva Studies, Nagaon for their guidance, valuable suggestion and pursuance in completing my thesis. I am indebted to their greater efforts to make a revision of the thesis amidst their busy schedule of works.

I also acknowledge with honour the kind support, encouragement and mental support of the honourable Vice Chancellor of Mahapurusha Srimanta Sankaradeva Viswavidyalaya, Dr. Kandarpa Kumar Deka and former Registrar of MSSV, Dr. Ratul Ch. Bora. In the same way, I am grateful to Dr. Dayananda Pathak, Professor of Sankaradeva Studies and renowned writer, Retd. Associate Prof. Kailash Das and my co-research scholar, all the respected faculty members, and the office staff of MSSV for their encouragement, co-operation and support during my research work.

I also offer my sincere thanks to the Principal of Morigaon College, Dr. Lilakanta Borthakur, and Dr. Harekrishna Devsharma, former Principal of Morigaon College and my Colleagues of the department of Political Science, Morigaon College for their kind co-operation and help. I am extremely grateful to the literary pensioner of Assam Government Maneswar Deuri Sir of Morigaon and Chandan Bhuyan, Ph.D. Scholar, Gauhati University for their support and motivation during my research period.

I am indebted to my parents Sri Ananta Kr. Das and Smti Nijara Das, my wife Binu Bordoloi Das and my sons Gaurav Jyoti Das and Abhigyan Das and all other family members for their love, encouragement, motivation, and moral support.

I would also like to thank the librarian and other staff members of Mahapurusha Srimanta Sankaradeva Viswavidyalaya, Gurucharan Medhi Library, Morigaon College, Morigaon District Library and Krishna Kanta Handique Library of Gauhati University for their kind cooperation, when I was visiting for my research work.

Above all, I am also thankful to the entire staff associated with the printing and binding of the thesis. Without their help and support, this work would not have seen the dawn of the day.
